FINDING INNER PEACE

WORKSHOP - Part 2

Presented by Kabir

How Self-Love Can Alter Our Perception of Ourselves

How Self-Love Can Alter Our Perception of the World

How Self-Love Can Improve Our Relationships

In the second workshop we will continue to examine the levels of the mind that require refinement to attain inner peace.

We will specifically be looking at Self-Love and how this can be used to strengthen our character and provide a foundation from which we may interpret our experiences.

The aim should be a gradual refinement of character rather than dramatic spiritual experiences.
